16 years ago I was broadsided in a four way intersection. I stopped.. 2 cars went. It was my turn and in my sight of vision there was no car to my right and one just starting up the hill to my left. As I was halfway through the intersection I was struck by a car from my right that came down the hill and never stopped at the intersection. They fought the ticket and got a fine for $35. The police accidentally erased the 911 call and I had no witness. My life was changed in an instant.
